NEW LIGHT AND WATER RATES

Contract Entered into Tuesday Night Calls for Lowering of Rates.

A meeting of the mayor and council of the city of Hickman was called for Tuesday night for the purpose of discussing with representatives of the Kentucky Utilities Company the present and unusually high rate charged in this city for light and water. Meeting with the local board were Messrs. Forgy and McClellan of the corporation. A new contract was entered into by the city with the Kentucky Utilities Company calling for a reduction in the rates charged for lights from 16 and 17 cents to 11 and 12 cents, and a reduction of 25 per cent in the water rates. These rates are to be in effect beginning September 1st, and will continue in effect until the first of the year. At the expiration of this contract a new one will be made with the utility further reduction of one cent in the light rates. The announcement of this reduction in rates will be welcome to the users of light, power and water, as it was generally believed that the rates which have recently been charged have been altogether too high, and the new rates will be down to something like that believed to be reasonable.

ANNOUNCES FOR MAYOR

T. T. Swayne Gets into Race For City's Highest Office.

The Courier is authorized to announce T. T. Swayne, manager of the Hickman Drug Co., as a candidate for Mayor of Hickman, subject to the general election in November. Mr. Swayne needs no introduction to the citizens of Hickman. He has lived here all of his life, which will be 55 years in November. Thirty-five years of that time he has spent in business on Clinton Street, having begun in business for himself at the age of 20 years, and making a marked success by honest application and energy. He is the third oldest in business in point of service in the city, being exceeded in the length of his business career only by J. W. Cowgill and E. F. Case. Few men have been here longer than Mr. Swayne and he loves the town with a love which words cannot express, and if elected mayor he promises to give the very best that is in him for the next four years, representing all the improvements possible with money that is available. He thinks that the public should be much more careful in selecting their council than their mayor. The council, figuratively speaking, can tie the mayor's hands; the mayor cannot so do the council, so he urges that you elect none but clear-headed, energetic citizens to serve on your council. He asks that you investigate his qualifications for mayor and solicit his support.

THE "HEALTH FAIRY" COMING TO HICKMAN

A most unusual and entertaining visitor will be in Hickman Friday, September 2. Miss Anne Raymon of New York, who is known as the "Health Fairy," Miss Raymond is sent out by the Child Health Organization of America and travels all over the United States, but this is her first visit to Kentucky. She will give a very unique performance at the Methodist Church Friday morning at 10 o'clock, to which all of the children of the city and country schools are invited, but particularly those of the first five grades. All of the city and county teachers are not only invited but urged to be present; the county and city school boards; the executive committee of the Health and Welfare League, and all of the physicians of the community. Miss Raymond is particularly anxious to see the physicians, the teachers and the school boards for a conference after the entertainment. A cordial invitation is also extended to those members of the Parent-Teachers Association who are interested. No admission will be charged, and an entertainment is promised which will be helpful to the grown people and attractive to the children. Since the schools are not in session the children cannot be taken to the church in a body; therefore it is necessary that each mother see personally that her children get there. With good weather and good roads, there is no reason why we shouldn't have a large attendance of children from the country schools.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

A cordial invitation is extended to all the services.

The Girls' Friendly Society met on Thursday night, August 25, at the home of Mrs. J. W. Rogers in monthly party session. About thirty members and guests were present and thoroughly enjoyed an evening of old fashioned, outdoor games and relay races. "Drop the handkerchief," "bean bag" and "roll across the river" gave all ages plenty of fun and exercise and a lively appetite for the picnic supper spread on Mrs. Rogers' beautiful lawn.

CUT FISH HOOK OUT OF ARM.

Rubie Caldwell, 14-year-old son of Bess Caldwell, of Lynville, had a large fish hook caught in his right arm Tuesday morning, causing a very painful wound. He, with a party of fishers from Lynville, was fishing on Mud Creek, and was setting a trout line. In throwing out the line, one of the hooks buried itself in his arm. He was brought to Hickman and the hook cut out of his arm. The wound, though not fatal, was very painful.

The Girls' Friendly Society meets with Miss Maud Huestelink Thursday night. Business night. Every member is urged to be present.
S. D. Stenbridge has returned after a short business trip to St. Louis.

GOV. MORROW'S PROCLAMATION

Designates Better School Week for September 4-10.

September 4—Educational Sunday.
September 5—Americanization Day.
September 10—Kentucky Day.
To the People of Kentucky:

The Kentucky Educational Association, composed of the teachers and school administrators of the state, has suggested that the week of September beginning the 4th be observed throughout the state as "Better School Week." During this week public meetings will be held in every county of the state. The specific purpose of these meetings is:

1. To arouse a more active and more intelligent interest in popular education.
2. To give the people the facts about our schools and our school system as disclosed by the survey.
3. To present proposed plans for improvement, to explain the meaning of the two proposed amendments, and to urge their adoption.

There can be no two opinions as to the necessity of an education awakening in Kentucky. Too many of our school buildings in rural districts are absolutely unfit for school purposes; too many of our schools are without teachers; too many of our teachers are immature and poorly prepared; too many of our children never attend school; too many attend so irregularly as to lose all benefit of the school; in too many counties partisan politics controls still the appointment of superintendents and in the administration of the schools; our school laws are confused and contradictory and chaotic; our teacher-training schools are inadequate; our University no longer meets all needs of our young men and women.

Is there any insuperable reason why Kentucky should rank forty-fifth among the states in education? Shall we be satisfied to stand third from the bottom? By the 1920 census there are in Kentucky one hundred fifty-five thousand and fourteen (155,914) illiterates; these forty thousand five hundred forty-eight (40,548) are colored and one hundred fourteen, four hundred sixty-six are white. Kentucky is largely an agricultural state. Statesmanship has no greater problem than the preservation and development of the rural community. The trend from the country to the cities is due in a large measure to the decline of the rural school system. Parents will not be content to live in rural communities where the schools are unsatisfactory. The happiness and prosperity of our people will largely correspond to the efficiency of our schools; the development and preservation of our free institutions will be determined by the diffusion of right information and the fostering of right ideas. Free schools, efficient and open to all the children are fundamental in a democracy. No state is safe whose citizens are ill-educated.

To the end that the Kentucky child may have an even chance and a square deal, whether living in city or country, in Mountain, Blue-grass or Pigeon, I call upon the people of Kentucky to observe Better School Week. I hereby designate September 4 as Educational Sunday. I recommend to all the clergy of the state, irrespective of denomination, that sermons upon the importance of education, and particularly upon its importance in a democracy be preached on that day. Grave problems of a social, economic, and industrial nature confront our country. There are many who believe that we need only more upon the church and school to point the way for the settlement of these problems. I hereby designate September 5 as Americanization Day. The battle ground for the preservation of merican institutions and American ideals is in the public schools of merica. I further designate September 10 the last day of Better School Week, as Kentucky Day. I strongly urge that the fullest measure of cooperation be given by the various organizations of our state. Let politics be forgotten. Let every issue that divides us be set aside. Let a united citizenship pay tribute to Kentucky's greatest asset—the Kentucky child.

TRY OMELET WITH CROUTONS

Recipe Given for Making Dish That Will Tempt Appetites of Great Many People.

A well-made omelet or soufflé is a dish that tempts most people. Try this omelet with croutons for variety. Make croutons by cutting stale bread into one-third-inch cubes; fry in butter until crisp and well browned. Beat five eggs slightly, add four tablespoonsful of cream or milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-eighth teaspoonful of pepper, and the browned croutons. Put two table-spoonfuls of butter in a hot omelet pan, and when the butter is melted and hot turn in the mixture. As it cooks prick and pick up with a fork until the whole is of a uniform creamy consistency. Increase the heat and brown quickly underneath, then fold and turn on a hot platter, garnish with sprigs of parsley and serve.

Sport Suits for College Wear

ALL WARDROBES are more or less permeated with a strong flavor of sports clothes, and in that of the college girl it is decidedly more. They suit her and she suits them, therefore the quiet paths of learning are destined to be brightened up this fall with snappy suits and hats a bit rakish. The style of clothes of this character, at once casual and spirited, strikes the right note for American young women, their endless variation keeps up a lively interest in them and makes them more and more successful.

One of the suits that is sure to please the college girl is among the earliest arrivals for fall and is pictured here. The neat, cross-hair skirt, in two colors, makes all sorts of opportunity for color combinations and the coat of jersey cloth is selected to match either of the colors in the skirt, usually the darker and less vivid one. It is worth while to note the small details that distinguish this suit, the patch pockets bordered with pointed straps made of the material of the skirt, the cuffs and notched revers of the same. The vest of net and lace may take the place of a blouse when monetly becoming. The skirt is shoe-top length—when the shoes are high.

The outfit of the college girl will include one or two suits of this character and one that may be classed as more conventional—a jacket, well, serge or other strong and probably somewhat decorated as to its coat. Skirts are still plain, coats longer with much attention given to collars and sleeves. This kind of suit is equal to almost any emergency in the experience of the college girl. She may choose a plain model of jersey cloth, with coat cut on straight lines and belted with narrow belt of the material. Such a suit, well tailored and neat, may be bought in light and dark brown, navy, blue, dark green or gray. Colored plaques on the pockets emphasize its simplicity. The unmissable quality of the jersey makes it a standard of the outfit and the college girl who keeps things neatly pressed and

VEGETABLE CHOWDER RECIPE

Best to Learn the Type of Dish and Not Be Confined to Any Definite Formula.

Vegetable chowders offer a good way of using up vegetables and skim milk. It is best to learn the type of dish and not be confined to any definite recipe, say food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, for mistakes are often wasted thereby which should be used. The following typical recipe is a good one and suggestive of the kind of dish one can easily make:

1 pound salt pork or 4 medium-sized potatoes, 2 carrots, 2 medium-sized to 2 cupsful of skim milk, 1 pint stewed tomatoes, 2 tablespoonfuls of flour, 1 green pepper, 2 teaspoonfuls salt.

Put the bacon or pork, onion and pepper through the meat chopper and cook carefully about five minutes. Add the water and tomatoes and cook until the vegetables are tender. Cut the potatoes and carrots into small pieces and cook in water until tender; drain and add with the skim milk to the other ingredients. Thicken with the flour mixed with a little cold milk.

REFRESHMENT FOR CHILDREN

Danger of Overeating Lessened If Food Is Served at Time to Take Place of Regular Meal.

Children's parties present special problems because they give the mother the responsibility for feeding other people's children. One danger of such occasions—that of overeating—will be lessened if the refreshments are served at such a time as to take the place of one of the regular meals of the day. The same care should be taken in selecting foods as in the case of the ordinary meals.

No hard, tough, rich, or highly seasoned foods should be served, say food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Cocoa or some other milk drink, fruit, sandwiches, ice cream or a gelatin dessert, plain frosted cake, and simple candies make a good bill of fare.

Monarch's Mummy Finally at Rest. The mummy of the celebrated Egyptian king, Rameses II, reposes in the Egyptian museum in Cairo. The mummy was first interred at Beni-Hassan and was subsequently concealed from grave robbers in the shaft at Deir-el-Behri, where it was found in 1881, and later removed to the museum mentioned.

Everything for QUALITY
—nothing for show

THAT'S OUR IDEA in making CAMELS—the Quality Cigarette.

Why, just buy Camels and look at the package! It's the best packing science has devised to keep cigarettes fresh and full flavored for your taste. Heavy paper outside—secure foil wrapping inside and the revenue stamp over the end to seal the package and keep it air-tight.

And note this! There's nothing flashy about the Camel package. No extra wrappings that do not improve the smoke. Not a cent of needless expense that must come out of the quality of the tobacco.

Camels wonderful and exclusive Quality wins on merit alone.

Because, men smoke Camels who want the taste and fragrance of the finest tobaccos, expertly blended. Men smoke Camels for Camels smooth, refreshing mildness and their freedom from cigarette aftertaste.

Camels are made for men who think for themselves.

BRITAIN FREE FROM WOLVES

Country More Fortunate in That Respect Than Are Other Lands in Europe.

We in the British Isles appear to have got rid of the wolf plague. In England, in the early Fifteenth century, the beast ceased to be a danger that had to be reckoned with. It remained longer in Scotland, where the very last wolf ever heard of in the roaming state is said to have been slain by Sir Ewen Cameron of Lochiel during the reign of Charles II—an incident that appears to have been looked upon as distinctly worthy of notice.

The complete and final elimination of the bane is no doubt owing to the fact that, as lupus was steadily being hunted down in the land, our insular position precluded all possibility of fresh immigration. In France the case was different. There was nothing to prevent the migrating wolf from reaching the country from the wildernesses of Central Europe—even from Russia and still more distant Siberia, the classic home of the race.

Many are the legends, to some extent based on fact, of vast armies of wolves travelling—even as the invading Goths and Vandals—from their hungry deserts to the richer lands of the West, to be stopped only by the Atlantic. At any rate, to this day the black wolf crosses the Pyrenees, and the brown wolf the Alps, to reinforce fraternally the ranks of the much-harried gray wolf of France. And the day seems still far distant when the curse will be finally extinguished.—Egerton Castle in the Youth's Companion.

A TONIC

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is simply Iron and Quinine suspended in syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs QUININE to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. Destroys Malarial germs and Grip germs by its Strengthening, Invigorating Effect. 60c.

For a New Umbrella. Before using a new umbrella inject a small quantity of vaseline into the hinge portion of the frame. If put on carefully the vaseline will not spread and is a sure preventive against rust. Also, always stand wet umbrellas on their handle to dry. This allows the water to run out of them instead of into the part where the metal is rusted, thus causing the metal to rust and the silk to rot.—Good Housekeeping.

As an example of loose proof reading on a daily paper we point to "Telle Haute, Indiana."

Everybody knows the old saying about disasters running in threes. One wreck kills for two more; one fire for an additional two, and so on until the third one, after which is supposed to come a lull. Well, Indian Springs, which is in Georgia, in order mayhap to get it over with, had three fires in one night. Now the thudly superstitious and the Cassandras and pessimists of Indian Springs have no material to build with.

Gosh, but ain't living getting cheap? The cost of living decreased seven tenths of one per cent during July.

The word "normalcy" has dropped out of the lexicon of the Republicans. It's a boomerang, a haint, a back fire, and every day adds to its hugeness as a joke. The great Harding campaign slogan has become the joy of the Democratic press, for its carrying out is going on with the reverse English every day. The Republican press is as silent about as the letter "g" in "gaww."

The Atlantic City hotels have decreased their rates from $6 to $2.50 per day. The reason, as we understand it, is that no one has $6 any more.

The Man on the Fish Dock foresees some drastic laws against the sale of pistols and says he's going to lay in a couple of gallons of automotives.

Ever hear of a dog saying grace over a meal? "Spikes," the old dog belonging to Charlie Frost does. Before he partakes of his food he invariably goes through a ceremonial that includes a series of short, sharp barks. He will not eat until this rite has been performed.

No matter how much of a shame and disgrace it might be, the separate peace with Germany went on through. It was different from what Woodrow Wilson wanted, and that was enough. Politics takes no heed of right or wrong, justice or injustice.

"Not a single man was seen, under the influence of liquor at the Putnam County Fair at Cookeville, Tenn.," says a dispatch from that place. That is well. A man should not be seen when in that condition. If they'd just "not be seen" at the rest of the fairs hereabouts it would be much better.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS.

The Union City Manufacturing Company that manufactures raincoats was taken over last Saturday by L. S. Parks and C. E. Beck. The factory will no longer make raincoats but will immediately be converted to a factory for making childrens and womens dresses. No wonder these kinds of factories are popular as, according to current rumor, they are making Aladdin dividends. We have heard the exact figure stated but we won't mention it, as we would not want the splendid reputation for veracity that we have been 34 years building up called in question. Anyway, however, this be it, but emphasizes what this paper said last week, that we need not wait on foreign capital to develop our manufacturing interests. If ever done, it would be home talent capital that would do it. It looks now like the genius and executive ability of the Beck family would send the fang of Union City over two continents.—Union City News-Banner.

CASE GETS INTO THE UNITED STATES COURT

Enjoining Ballard county from collecting taxes for school purposes from the Illinois Central railroad on the I. C. bridge at Cairo, Ill., a sum approximating $20,000, a restraining order and subpoena in chancery were served on W. A. Anderson, superintendent of the Ballard county schools, by R. W. Kimbrell, Deputy U. S. Marshal.

The schools are enjoined from collecting the I. C. bridge tax pending action in the suit of the Illinois Central railroad company, which will be tried in the United States court, Eastern District at Frankfort. The suit was filed by the railroad at Frankfort and seeks a readjustment of the bridge tax in Ballard county, holding that the present rate is too high. An order to restrain the collection until the suit is tried was sought.

The Ballard school district is one of the richest school districts in the State of Kentucky. It is stated. The amount of the bridge tax annually paid by the railroad is large. Federal papers were served on Anderson at Wickliffe.—Carrille County News.

Illinois Central System Shows How Taxes Have a Bearing on Railway Rates

Notwithstanding that for the past twelve months the railroads as a whole have earned almost no net return on the capital invested in them, many persons insist that freight and passenger rates be reduced, regardless of the costs of producing that transportation service which the public must have. We wish, therefore, to direct attention to the fact that the costs of producing transportation are still relatively much higher than the rates. We think it is fair to ask the public to give consideration to what the railroads are having to pay for labor, materials, locomotives, fuel, cars, taxes and interest on borrowed capital before passing that judgment upon the reasonableness of present freight and passenger rates.

It is true that, effective July 1, railway wages were reduced 12 per cent, but they are still 108 per cent higher than they were in 1914—the year of the beginning of the great war which upset everything. Road locomotives cost 123 per cent more, switch engines cost 144 per cent more, gondola cars cost 117 per cent more, refrigerator cars cost 107 per cent more, box cars cost 122 per cent more, steel passenger coaches cost 100 per cent more, and locomotive fuel costs 128 per cent more at present than in 1914. The Illinois Central System sold bonds in 1914 on a basis yielding less than 5 per cent to the purchasers. It recently sold $8,000,000 of bonds running for fifteen years, and the best terms it was able to secure yielded a return of more than 7 per cent to the purchasers.

Take the single item of direct taxes for a ten-year period. The Class 1 railroads, which include all railroads having gross operating incomes of $1,000,000 or more annually, paid $98,626,848 in taxes in 1911. In 1920 the same railroads paid $278,895,698 in taxes, an increase of $180,268,850, or 183 per cent.

The Illinois Central System paid $3,278,107.96 in taxes in 1911, while in 1920 it paid $9,575,680.87, an increase of $6,297,572.91, or 192 per cent.

But these are not the only taxes affecting transportation charges. When the shipper pays his freight bill he should remember that 3 per cent of what the railroad's bill otherwise would be is added and collected by the railroad as a transportation tax. Likewise, when the passenger pays for his ticket, he should remember that 8 per cent of what he otherwise would pay the railroad is added and collected for the government as a transportation tax. Patrons generally consider only the total cost of freight and passenger transportation, and many think the railroads get the whole amount.

As the agent of the government the Illinois Central System collected from its patrons in 1920 the sum of $3,084,072.54 as transportation tax on freight, and $2,254,256.87 as transportation tax on passenger fares, a total of $5,338,329.41. This is not included in the above mentioned item of $9,575,680.87 direct taxes paid, but was collected and remitted directly to the government.

The question of abolishing the transportation tax is having consideration at Washington. The abolition of this tax would reduce railway rates without injury to the railroads.

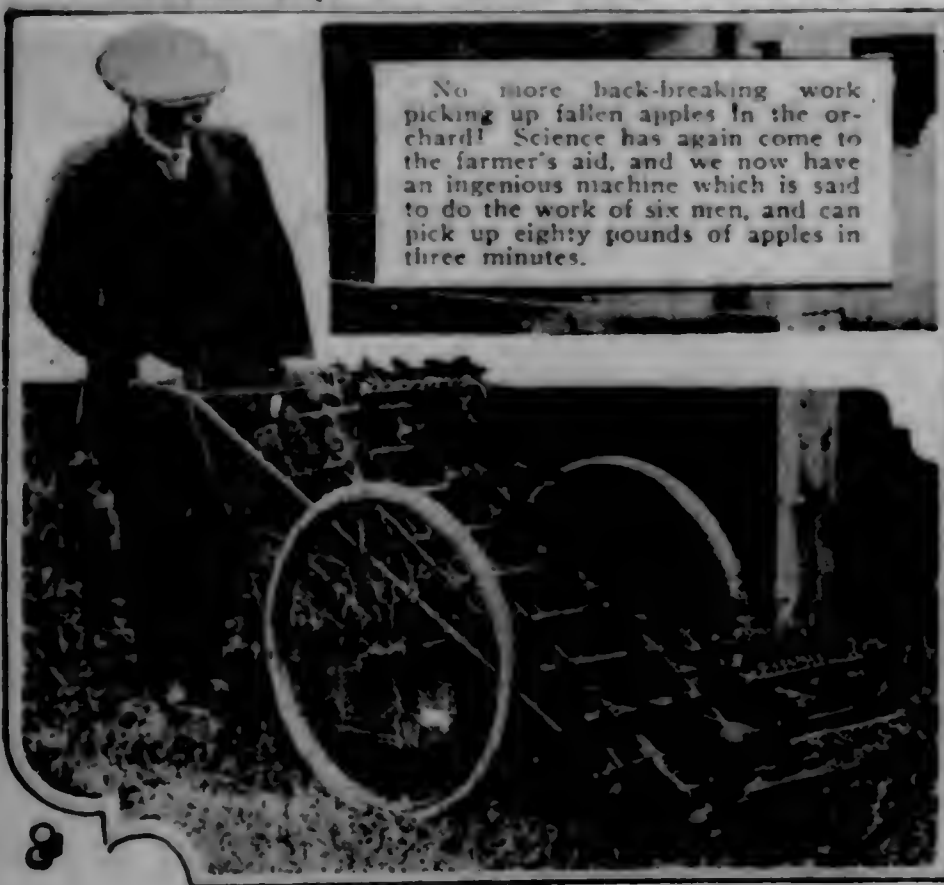

We do not bring up the question of railway taxation in a spirit of complaint. We realize that all citizens and all businesses must bear their just proportion of the expense of government. We refer to the matter just now to make it clear that railway taxation must be added to the cost of transportation and necessarily has a bearing on freight and passenger rates.

The Illinois Central System has been striving for more than a year to present facts in regard to the railroad problems for the consideration of the public. The public will be able to decide for itself the advisability of such a course when it considers that the management of the Illinois Central System is the trustee of an investment in roadway and equipment of more than half a billion dollars. We realize that the property, and all railway property, will be dealt with accordingly as public sentiment develops and crystallizes. We feel, therefore, that we must present our case before the court of public opinion, and we are glad to do that, having an abiding faith in the fairness and justice of the people when they have the facts before them.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

C. H. MARKHAM,
President, Illinois Central System.

MACHINERY INVADES THE ORCHARD

No more back-breaking work picking up fallen apples in the orchard! Science has again come to the farmer's aid, and we now have an ingenious machine which is said to do the work of six men, and can pick up eighty pounds of apples in three minutes.

MANY DADS ARE MAKING A BUM JOB—LIKE THIS ONE

Last week when a Fulton county man appeared in a store to purchase a small window pane he remarked, "My kid kicked a football through the window, but believe me, I tanned his hide." A bystander put this question to him: "Do you recall the time when you and I were kids and you in sport swung a base ball bat, it slipped from your hands and passed through the large show window, and it cost your poor dad $50? Your dad said, 'Too bad, son, but of course it was an accident; we must pay for it.' He's in the grave yard now; you're supposed to take his place, and you're doing a bum job at it."

Some men, when they arrive at home, if the kid is away, they storm the premises; if he is at home, in a game of foot ball, base ball or marbles, they storm also. The fact is, these men are cowards; they can't talk back to a boy but their kids, and they permit their troubles of the day to brew the storm which they control until they arrive at home, then with one rip, they allow their treacherous dispositions to escape their control, howl, and if anything has gone wrong, "tann the kid's hide." No wonder some kids, like Chester, wish they were orphans.

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. 'I saw after taking some Cardui... that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person.'"

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me... My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments.

START WORK ON COFFIN FACTORY

L. N. Gregory local contractor today started work on the new coffin factory proposed by the A. B. Smith Lumber Company at Hickman. The first for its erection was shown between Mr. Smith and Mr. Gregory Monday.

There will be quite an industry for the little town of Hickman. The building as planned will be 48 by 100 feet and will be two stories in height. A force of about 100 men will be employed at the start. Work in manufacturing the coffins will start in temporary quarters in about two weeks and will be moved into the permanent factory inside of forty days the time which the Gregory estimates will be required for the completion of the building. The factory will take the rough lumber and will turn out the finished product including the upholstery.

GERMAN-AMERICAN TREATY SIGNED

When Ratified Will End State of War Between U. S. and Germany

The German-American peace treaty was signed in Berlin last Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The treaty when ratified by the United States Senate and the German Reichstag will put an end to the state of war which has existed between the United States and Germany since April 1917. The Senate will reconvene September 21 and the Reichstag about the same time.

Signatures were affixed to the document by E. D. Drexel, American commissioner, on behalf of the United States, and Dr. V. H. Rosen, foreign secretary, on behalf of the German government.

The treaty had been under consideration for some time. Its terms are said to be the same, substantially, as those of the Knox-Parker peace resolution.

The provisions of the German-American treaty require sacrifices of the Knox-Parker resolution. The body of the treaty accords to Germany the rights and advantages of the resolution, plus the rights guaranteed her by the treaty of Versailles.

The United States, under the treaty, is not bound by the League of Nations, nor is it obligated to fulfill certain parts of the Versailles treaty.

America will be represented on the reparations commission.

The signing of the treaty means the immediate resumption of diplomatic relations, pending its ratification.

The State Department received confirmation of the signing of a treaty of peace between Austria and the United States in Vienna last week. This treaty is understood to be almost identical with that negotiated with Germany.

Testing the Hairdresser's Touch.
In Berlin there is a "school" where it is the aim not merely to teach the students what to do, but to instruct them thoroughly in the best way to do it, and there is a test which they all have to meet before they are judged to be competent hairdressers. This machine is specially designed to test the user's ability to comb hair without pulling or jerking or breaking it. By recording the tension at all times during the combing, it gives a complete indication of the manner in which the wielding of the comb progressed.

A cross, sickly baby suffering from digestive troubles and loss of the bowels needs Mother's Baby Balm. It checks the bowels, opens the stomach and restores healthy conditions. Price, 25c and 50c. Sold by Hickman Drug Co.

Alfalfa Came From Asia.
Alfalfa is a native of Asia, but has been cultivated in Europe since before the time of Christ. The Spaniards introduced it into South America until some time between 1850 and 1860, when it was brought to California. Since then it has become the most extensively cultivated forage crop in the United States.

WOMEN KEENLY FEEL RESPONSIBILITY

Parent-Teachers' Associations of Kentucky United In Favoring the Two Amendments

The Parent-Teachers Associations of the state will do everything in their power to carry the two amendments to the Constitution in November by a large majority. Mrs. George C. Weldon, president, sent the statement given below to your staff correspondent:

"I am so glad to have the opportunity of saying a few words in favor of the two Constitutional amendments to be voted on at the November election.

"The amendment which proposes to take the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction out of politics is of vast importance, as our school system can never attain the perfection we hope for it until we, by one united vote in November, shove politics as far away from school administration as possible. There is no more important position in the whole state than that of Mrs. George C. Weldon.

Superintendent of Schools, and by the present school laws he must be changed every four years—no matter how efficient he is nor how long he has administered school affairs during his term of office. With each change of administration comes a shaking up of the Department of Education, which is very bad for our schools, for of course each new superintendent has ideas of his own which just begin to work out before the next upheaval. Our schools need the continued, concentrated thought of one able man who may succeed himself.

"When Democrats and Republicans alike agree that the proposed amendment is the only solution of our school problem here in Kentucky what need to make it a political issue, anyway? There is no party in education as received by our children.

"The amendment to reapportion funds is also vastly important, as it seems to be the solution of the rural school problem, by giving the rural child in the most isolated district an even chance with the child in the more prosperous community.

"The women of Kentucky—on whom rests largely the great responsibility of educating the children—must avail themselves of the privilege of suffrage and must use that privilege conscientiously. Women of Parent-Teacher Associations must keenly feel the responsibility to such an extent that they will not only cast their vote for these amendments, but will explain them to others and persuade them to the same course. For the sake of our children and our friends' children let us strive to make it an overwhelming majority in November."

SCHOOLS SHOULD BECOME STRONGER

If They Are to Keep Pace With the Progress in Other Lines.

Miss Ada May Cromwell, chairman of the Division of Education of Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, believes a strong school system would mean greater opportunities for the boys and girls in the rural schools. In an interview with your reporter she had the following to say:

"The whole troop of care-free youngsters pass my gate when school lets out. One lassie often lifts the latch and comes in. Sometimes to ask for a drink, occasionally to bring me a note from the teacher."

What she really means is for us to get a moment's inside view, to touch my pens in the rack, to fasten her brown eyes on the rows of books in the class and to handle the pile of manuscript on my desk. Her hunger is for good books, for there is talent in that small being waiting for development.

"I tried hard the same old road to the same dreary end, I remember under the same school house. I sit on the same bench and look at the same grad at the same old school. I remember and I am sure that for the same reason I am here today."

"I have been asked for my honest opinion as to the school system of Kentucky, and I wrote it down plainly that I do not believe that the little lassie, who lifts my latch, has one iota of a better chance than I had."

Our standard is low. Our system is inadequate. We are not now, any more than we were thirty years ago, giving the Kentucky child its due, and just as I have been hampered and delayed in my life's work because of this lack, so will the lassie be hampered. So will be all the thousands of lads and lassies who are depending upon the public school for their chance.

"Take the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction out of politics, thus we will arrive at the rudiments of a new school system which by reason of its newness and vigor will make rapid growth into a great system."

"The royal road to this system lies in the adoption of the two proposed amendments to the State Constitution, which will be submitted to the people at the November, 1921, election."

"My plea to every woman in the state is:

"Make the voting for these two amendments a matter of conscientious duty to childhood. Vote for the same measure you pray for."

MUCH LOSS IS PREVENTABLE

Farmers Lose $15,000,000 Every Year by Selling Fertile Eggs—Rooster Is Cause.

Selling fertile eggs for market purposes during warm weather cost farmers $15,000,000 a year, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. This loss is preventable. The rooster makes the egg fertile. The fertile egg makes the blood run. The blood runs and the rooster and the egg are lost.

This union was blessed with eleven children, eight girls and three boys. Mrs. McClellan was converted and joined the M. L. Church in 1861, and lived a faithful member until death. Her life unfolded would make a beautiful story to those who knew her best. Those surviving her are six girls—Mrs. Ella Bramford, Cayce, Ky.; Mrs. Paula Bonidin, Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Kittie White, Cayce, Ky.; Mrs. Inez Meneses, Cayce; Mrs. Ruth English, Chattanooga, Tenn., and Mrs. Clara Carr, Cayce, and two boys, J. She was a kind and loving mother and ever ready to help those about her. In her last illness her good neighbors were always ready to help and care for her.

WAKE UP VOTERS.

This article means a kind feeling to all and all will to no one, as I have been voting in Hickman 50 years and feel an interest in the town.

I will say in regard to Mr. Hale's article of the 18th, and Mr. Hickmore's of the 25th, they are both good and to the point, but hardly strong enough. I want to say that we have been electing nice men on the board for several years, but it seems they don't put their shoulders to the wheel as they should do. Instead of meeting 12 times a year as the law requires, they meet about 8 times, and when they do meet get in a squabble over some question and do nothing. What the voters want is to pick out a man for mayor and 6 men for the council that are good hustlers and not afraid to do what they think is right, regardless of politics or friends, and when we do this the town will prosper and get out of its old fog ways.

"A FATTISH CAVALIER"

BY VIOLET MOORE HICKMAN.

To get a romantic thrill from this picture, cover the face with a coin—doubtless a half dollar will be large enough—and at once all romance, music under the light of western stars, and all that. Remove the quarter or half, and you find that "the Spanish Cavalier" who stood in his retreat, and on his guitar played a tune, dear "is none other than our old friend Roscoe Arbuckle, starring in George Melford's new photoplay production of "The Round-up," a Paramount picture.

What is he singing? A mournful little ditty entitled "Nobody loves a fat man," of course.

But as a matter of fact, before the film flickers off the screen, everybody loves him, and with reason, too, for he demonstrates that he can act with real force and ability and can do much more than just be fat and funny. Incidentally he really can play that guitar. "But take it from me," he said in speaking of the taking of the picture, "learning to play this hard new guitar was one of the hardest stunts I ever tried. I learned, because I'm strong for realism in a picture, so if I had to play it at all, I meant to do it, really, so fooling, so I just naturally set out to learn. I did, too, and practice makes perfect, so that before we finished I got so good at it that I began to think I was a Spanish cavalier—until I looked in a mirror."

DOES NOT BELONG IN CITY

When the Arabian Musical Instrument, the Argul, Comes to Town, It Degenerates.

In Cairo the argul is played at night in the old city, and on the streets of the underworld, hounding its note and interpretation to love songs that somehow follow when everything else in life has been lost or left behind, writes Robert Hamilton Rucker in Asia Magazine. At an Arabian cafe an old man from the street will play and young men will sing while the coffee is being made. The argul sings with each and talks with each, sympathizes, understands and seems so earnest as to make one half believe that the young man is singing from his own heart and that the argul, long accustomed to such confidence, knows it full well.

But, like many of the country bred, it seems to degenerate when it comes to town. It falls upon evil ways; it sings of love to the loveless; it hovers about the low cafes. Its friend, the tabla—more pretentious, and perhaps more astute—changes its name when it comes to town and does not appear alone at night in dark, unfrequented streets. It is known as the darabukkeh, and is seen in the high-class cafes where favorites dance to the music it brings. It has more rhythm than melody; much volume but little feeling. It talks from the head and sings to the feet.

But the argul is all sentiment and sympathy. Its place is the desert; its home, we knew as we listened there on the rugs in front of our tents, is in the wastes of the sandy plain and the stillness of the starlit night.

POULTRY CACKLES

RIGHT FOWLS FOR BREEDING

Hens Are Preferable to Pullets as They Lay Larger Eggs—Free Range Is Favored.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

If cockerels or pullets are used in the breeding flock they should be well matured, poultry specialists in the United States Department of Agriculture advise. Hens are better than pullets. They lay larger eggs which produce stronger chicks. Yearling and two-year-old hens are better than older ones. Pullets used as breeders should be mated with a cock rather than with a cockerel. If a cockerel is used he should be mated with hens rather than with pullets. As a rule, well-matured cockerels will give better fertility than cocks.

When possible, free range should be provided for the breeding stock. It is better to provide it during the entire fall and winter before the breeding season, but, if this is not possible, free range just preceding and during the breeding season will be of great value. Birds on free range will get more exercise and, therefore, will be in better health and will give higher fertility, better hatches, and stronger chicks.

The breeding flock needs careful supervision to make sure that the fowls keep in good breeding condition. The birds and the houses should be examined often to see that they are not infested with lice or mites. Either of these pests in any numbers will seriously affect or totally destroy fertility. Care must be exercised also to see that the male does not frost his comb or wattles. If these are frosted his ability to fertilize eggs will be impaired and may not be recovered for several weeks. On very cold nights when there is danger of the combs being frosted the males to be used as breeders must be put in a warm place, such as a box or crate of suitable size partly covered by a bag or cloth. The breeding male should be examined occasionally after feeding to see that his crop is full and that he is not growing thin. Some males will allow the hens to eat all the feed, with the result that they get out of condition. If this happens the male must be fed separately from the hens at least once a day.

Provide the breeding stock with comfortable quarters. The house must be draft proof, yet well ventilated and dry. The birds should not be crowded. If the birds are yarded, 4 square feet of floor space per bird should be allowed, but on free range from 3 to 3 1/2 square feet per bird will be enough.

The breeders must be fed so as to keep them in such condition that they will produce eggs. Any good laying ration is suitable for this purpose. Reef scrap should not run above 10 or 15 per cent of the total ration. The birds should be kept in good flesh but should not be allowed to become excessively fat. All whole or cracked grain should be fed in litter. This forces the fowls to exercise by scratching for it. As a supply of green feed is usually lacking late in the winter or early in the spring, sprouted oats, cabbage, mangels, or cut clover or alfalfa should be fed.

GIVE CHICKS SKIMMED MILK

Considered Desirable for Youngsters During First Week, According to Specialists.

Skimmed milk is considered by specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture very desirable for chicks during the first week. In order to insure that all chicks get the milk it is advisable to dip the chick's beak in milk before it gets any other food. (This can best be done when removing chicks from the incubator.) Give milk to drink as long as it is advisable.

DRILLING LINE SECURED

Work was resumed at the well of Roney, Mitchell & Bruer, Wednesday and drilling is expected to start today. All things were in readiness to begin drilling last Friday when it was discovered at the last moment the drilling line which was a part of the standard rig secured from Fulton, was too short to reach the bottom of the well. It was necessary for those in charge to secure another drilling line as soon as possible, and this arrived yesterday by express from St. Louis.

FORD PLAN FOR RAILROADS

Henry Ford, in his first interview as president of the Detroit, Toledo & Ironville railroad, unfolded the plan for application of revolutionary engineering ideas tempered by plain business to do for railroading what he has done for automobile manufacturing.

"Despite our deception of ourselves on the fancied progress in railroad engineering, the plain, cold fact is that in railroad engineering no one has made a good start," Ford said. "We intend to do it."

Locomotives weighing one-third the present "money eaters" and doing just as much work with a fraction of the fuel consumption, are a part of the Ford vision of the railroad of the future. Likewise, he will have cars similarly reduced in weight, carrying present day tonnage at cheaper rates, under supervision of better paid workmen.

Sam Wilson had an unusual experience last week when his horse was bitten by a copperhead snake at his place south of town. He was riding across the field when he felt his horse give a sudden twitch and a few minutes later began to droop and give down. Finding the horse unable to make his way to the house, he left him and hurried to procure a veterinarian, the horse being almost dead when they returned and stiff all over. Examination showed the tiny imprint of a tooth on the ankle, and, going back to the spot where he felt the horse give the first twitch he found and killed a large copperhead snake. The horse recovered, but was in a very serious condition for some time.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly, for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general strengthening tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

NEW WILSON-BUTT BRANCH AT PARIS

For some time negotiations have been pending for the establishment in Paris, Tenn., of another branch of the Wilson-Butt Company, wholesale grocers, but it has been held up on account of a satisfactory location being difficult to obtain. It has just been announced that a building located on the corner of East Wood and Brower streets, one block off of Court Square, in Paris, has been leased by that company, who will open a wholesale grocery store on September 1. This firm already has branches in Hickman, Fulton and Metropolis, Ill., besides the main house in Paducah.
